

WHAT AM I?

"I am the Act that can be used to prosecute you if you are caught copying software, music, films, books, images and other things"

ANSWER .....

"I am another name often used for the act of copying software. You might associate me with men who sailed the sea trying to capture other ships and steal their treasure "

ANSWER .....

"I am the legal agreement that allows you to install a copy of a piece of software onto your computer. Although you could install the software onto two computers at home, legally, I will only allow one person to be using the software at any time "

ANSWER .....

"I am the legal agreement which allows you to install a particular number of copies of a piece of software onto the computers in your network. Even if the software is available throughout the network, only that amount of people may use it at any given time"

ANSWER .....

"I am the legal agreement which allows you to install a particular piece of software onto the computers in your network. I am happy to let everyone using the network to use the software at the same time. I might even let them use a copy at home"

ANSWER .....

"I am the maximum prison sentence and fine that can be given to someone who is prosecuted if they are caught copying software or other copyrighted material"

ANSWER .....